

JOURNALIST VISA

Version: 14/02/2012

The "Journalist" visa is a term given to a visa category grouping up multiple sectors of activity. Regardless of the purpose of visit (tourism, personal or professional), applicants working in the following fields of activity are obliged to apply exclusively for a "Journalist" visa: cinema, television, media, writing, publishing, press, photography, communication, advertising... (non-exhaustive list).

Generally, the Consulate General of India issues a visa valid for 3 months, single entry. This visa cannot be exchanged and cannot be renewed in India.

Please note that a 'journalist' travelling to India for tourist or personal purposes must apply for a Journalist visa and not a Tourist visa. However, the only additional requirement for this is a declaration from the applicant that he or she would not engage in any kind of professional activity while in India.
